YOUTH . . .

is a time to Seek, to Experience, to Develop. As searchers for Truth we are confronted daily with a veritable host of challenges through which we must pass to attain maturity. The manner of our striving will give us our philosophy for life.

SENIORS

YOUTH seeking to reach

maturity through involvement

The senior of '71 must be ever-mindful of this goal of involvement. Whether it be in the NHS, Monarch football, or the K of A, the youth of today, who becomes the man of tomorrow, must set his goals high and strive for the top. No longer can he sit back and let the other person get involved — the young man today must be an active and concerned person ready to participate in the vital issues of the day. The Mendel graduate of '71 must be forever ready to accept the challenges which face him.

Graduation

308 Mendel Monarchs Receive Diplomas

Baccalaureate exercises for the Class of 1971 took place in the morning of May 29 in the Mendel Gymnasium. Fr. Francis Crawford, Principal, celebrated the Mass honoring the graduates and their parents.

In the afternoon the graduation ceremonies were held, as traditionally, at the Mendinah Temple. With mixed emotions of joy and sadness the Class of '71 came together for the last time. When speeches were delivered and diplomas were received, the graduates realized that another challenge was upon them. In their minds they knew that they would assume their new responsibilities in life and always continue to be loyal Men of Mendel.

Each graduate proceeds towards the front of the stage to receive his diploma from the Principal, Fr. Crawford.

ACADEMICS

YOUTH . . . striving to learn,
to know, to understand

Today's young man must realize that most of his learning process is formed in his youth. Because of this he must learn to train his mind not only to adapt to the daily routine of high school life, but to acquire an interest for independent study and outside research. What youth can do is limitless. If his ability to think, to learn, to inquire, to research is utilized to its maximum, the youth of today will be well-equipped and well-informed to face tomorrow.

Frs. Crawford, Hartigan Exemplify Spirit, Dedication

Fr. Francis Crawford joins the student body in leading football cheers during one of the Friday afternoon assemblies.

When Fr. Francis Crawford, O.S.A., became Principal of Mendel in September, 1968, he brought to Mendel an enthusiastic and invigorating spirit. In his third year as Principal, still addressing the student body with a vigorous "Mendel Men!", he has upheld and bolstered this spirit, instilling in the students a new sense of dedication, pride, and loyalty towards their school. Fr. Crawford holds a Specialist degree in Education from DePaul University and a Master of Arts degree from the Catholic University of America.

Fr. Crawford's contagious spirit and love for the school has spread to the students which has helped them to become loyal and mature Mendel Men.

Fr. Daniel Hartigan, O.S.A., has completed his third year as Prior of the Mendel Monastery. He also is the Superintendent of the Augustinian Secondary School System. Before coming to Mendel in 1964, he had completed his education at Loyola University with a Doctor of Education degree. In 1951 when the school was founded he came to Mendel as a disciplinarian and teacher. In 1964, he returned to Mendel as Principal after a brief stay at Tolentine College. Hartigan continues to demonstrate a dedication which is analogous with his presence.

Fr. Daniel Hartigan does most of his work in his office, which is located in the east wing of the high school.

Fr. Thomas Martin Joins Mendel's Administrative Staff

Emphasis by the administration, which consists of the Principal and six Vice Principals, has been placed upon school discipline and organization, curriculum planning, and development of faculty and students. School policies are determined, votes are taken on proposals, and school events, calendar, activities are set at meetings which are held every Tuesday and Friday.

The Curriculum Seminar, which is made up of the department heads, comes under the direction of the administration. It meets once a month to discuss, evaluate and to make recommendations on current programs.

In summation, the administration is an organ through which policies and changes are accomplished for the school, faculty and the students.

Fr. John Tyme, O.S.A., is the Director of Studies and Chairman of the Curriculum Council. He prepares student and teacher schedules, handles student registrations, and records, and supervises bus transportation.

Fr. William Griffin, O.S.A., who is the Vice Principal in charge of discipline, supervises student attendance and conduct. His office directs regulations concerning student behavior and suitable sanctions for violations.

Fr. Ronald Turcich, O.S.A., who coordinates the events and activities of the school, is the Activities Director. He makes announcements for the school, directs the Candy Drive, and supervises homecoming week-end.

Fr. La Vern Flach, O.S.A., who coordinates the guidance program, is the Director of Guidance. His staff watches student scholastic progress, conducts testing programs, and provides educational and college counseling.

Fr. Thomas Martin, O.S.A., Director of Religious Activities, provides a program of spiritual growth for all students. Classroom instruction, days of renewal, retreat programs, and class Masses supplement this program.

Fr. Erwin Dodge, O.S.A., Athletic Director, supervises athletic programs and schedules. He promotes spirit among the students, provides needs of the players and acts as a mediator between coaches, players, and school.

Theology

New Programs Stir Student Interest, Activities

In order to help students mature spiritually and intellectually, the theology department has instituted a new program of student-teacher activities.

A new monthly mass schedule has been developed by Fr. Thomas Martin, the school chaplain. Every student then attended Mass once a month and participated in an interesting liturgical program.

Every student had the opportunity to attend one of Mendel's retreats. These retreats were run by Mendel's religious faculty and Augustinian seminarians who developed a rewarding program for spiritual growth. Seniors attended closed retreats at various retreat houses in the Midwest.

Regular classes and homework have been made more interesting with the addition of audio-visual aids and engaging in small discussion groups. Together with the new programs, these classes have helped to achieve the department's goal of spiritual growth of each person.

Science

Mendel Students Place 2nd in State Science Fair

Honor was brought to the Science Department when twenty-eight of its students qualified for the Illinois Junior Academy of Science State exhibition. Of these twenty-eight, nine students received Outstanding Awards, the highest awards in the State. The cumulative points earned Mendel the second place trophy. The success of these students was made possible through hours of work under the guidance of their teacher.

The Science Department and the Science Club have set up seminars for students interested in entering the fair. These discussions between students and teachers helped to prepare the students for the judging of their projects. Also three new opportunities were available to the students. These were NASA-National Science Teachers Association Youth Science Congress held in Cleveland, Tomorrows' Scientist and Engineers scholarship contest, and Westinghouse Science Talent Search Contest.

Much of this extra-curricular study was an outgrowth of the experimental attitudes, approaches and procedures obtained in the classroom. This was the major objective of the department. In order to develop interest in the many aspects of science the students submitted a research paper or project. The teachers then selected from the students' entries the thirty projects that will enter the district fair.

Eighty Seniors Have Choice of Three Advanced Courses

More than 70% of the Mendel students took a course in mathematics. Many of the underclassmen were assigned a project not only to encourage an appreciation of math, but to help the students to understand the methods and mechanics of problem solving. Top projects were used for presentation at Open House. Some of the seniors researched topics and presented their papers and findings to the class.

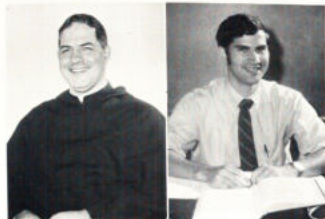

Three different math courses were offered to the seniors. Fifteen students chose to take college calculus which was taught by a professor from Olive-Harvey College. Fifty-five more seniors enrolled in one of the two levels of mathematics analysis.

The number of freshman math books was reduced to a single text. The teachers then assigned homework according to class ability and pace. Students were required to prepare their homework with the hope of eventual presentation on the blackboard.

Drawing

Students Learn Ink Washes, Blueprints, Line Contrast

Putting contrast in line-work, using an architect's scale, and reading blueprints were some of the basic drawing skills that were emphasized by Mr. Robert Heersma, Chairman of the department. In order to help his students to attain these essential skills, Mr. Heersma used the magazines, House and Home, and Professional Builder.

The department offered three drawing courses. The principle aim in each of these classes was to improve the student's work production without losing quality. Modern techniques, such as ink washes and projection boxes were used. The projection box allowed students to actually see an object from various angles, and then enabled them to draw the information onto paper.

Seniors Study Speaking, Writing in Film Productions

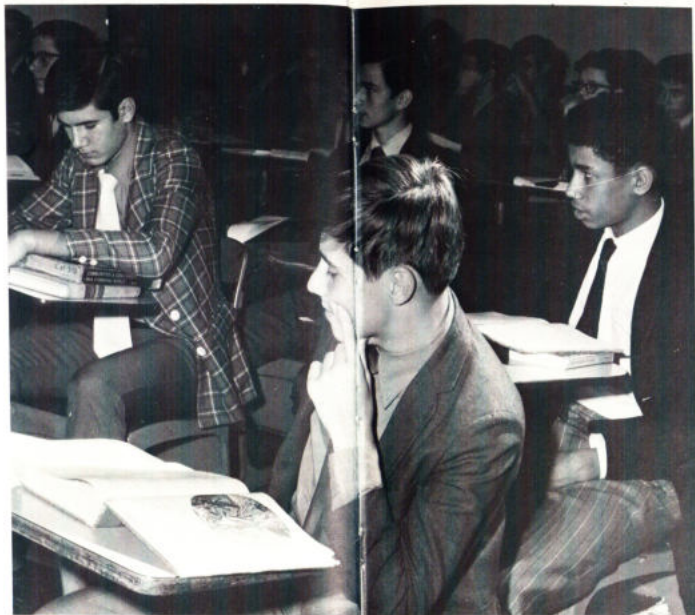

To teach writing fundamentals and composition techniques was the main goal of the English teachers. In some classes this entailed writing and giving of speeches while in others it involved writing essays. As an offspring of this program Ron Williams, a junior had an article published in the Tribune's 'Voice of Youth' column.

Again the department was able to use the closed-circuit television system to bring to the classroom such reproductions as Julius Caesar, Hamlet, and Canterbury Tales.

As an innovation to the Curriculum and to appreciate the value of literary work, senior classes spent the fourth quarter analyzing, as art forms, the various techniques of writing and speaking in film productions.

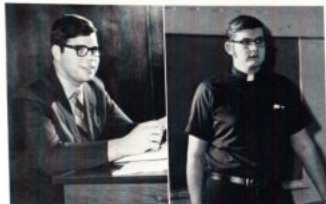

The ability to speak in front of others is a valuable skill. Mike Kuhn collects and organizes data for his speech.

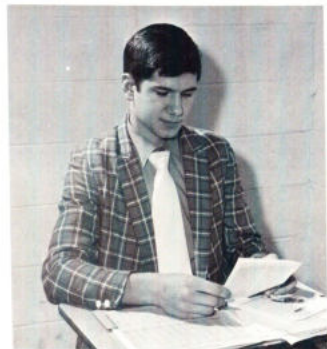

Getting acquainted with the whole scope of literature is one of the broad aims of a freshman English course. Section I students, Guy Mazzacavallo, Bob Pesut, and Derek Polk, try interpretative reading of poems of various authors.

Languages

Teachers Aim Towards Four Year Programs in Each Language

To develop the four basic language skills — listening, speaking, reading, and writing, the language department purchased new equipment. This equipment included a new tape-recorder and a filmstrip projector.

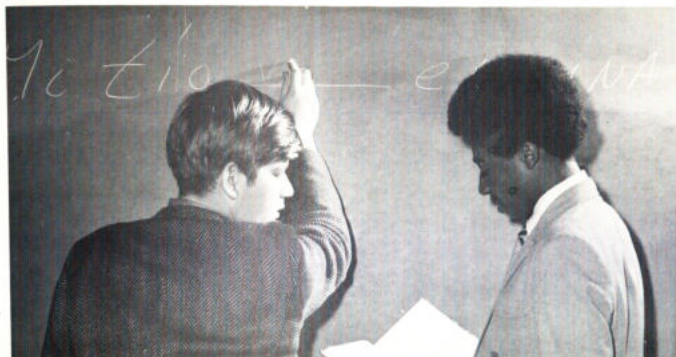

In advanced language courses slides, covering literature, history, art, music, and culture helped to make the students more aware of the language they were taking.

German III and IV have been put on a semi-modular schedule. Assignments dealing with Germany's culture were given and discussed in each class.

Ultimately the goal of the language department is to incorporate a four-year program in each language.

The English Department displays the Greats of Literature. These range from Shakespeare to Modern Classics.

Ross Rosetti and Keith Vance, both sophomores, help each other in choosing the correct verb form for the sentence.

Future freshman, Thomas Vogt of St. Barnabas grammar school, admires a model of The Alamo which was made for one of the Spanish classes.

Mr. Terrence Kavanagh Becomes New Department Chairman

To create an awareness of the planet on which we live, to study the various peoples, nations, and cultures that affect us, and to understand the concepts that influence our society were the aims of the department under the leadership of Mr. Terrence Kavanagh, new Chairman since September.

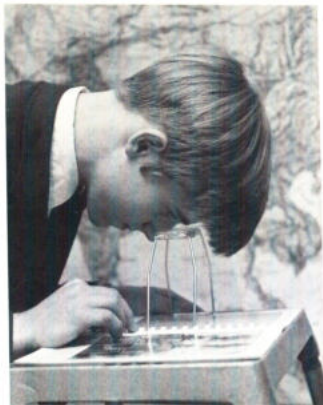

The techniques employed in classroom situations included lectures, question-answer periods, and discussions. Movies, book reports, and television programs aided the implementation of these techniques. A new film strip projector and adaptor helped the visualization of historical events.

During the second semester the department invited LeRone Bennett to address the students on the struggle of the black race in the United States.

In the future the department plans to expand the available literature library and purchase paperbacks that emphasize topics on wars, revolutions, ecology, and social problems. The teachers also plan to include in their syllabi special content on World War II, French and Russian revolutions, and Afro-American topics.

In the art appreciation class, examples of Renaissance art are shown to the students with a commentary by Mr. Hennessy.

Data Processing

Department Adds Three Machines to Its Fleet

With the addition of three new machines, a 602 Calculator, a 402 accounting machine, and a 514 re-producer, the Data Processing department, under the direction of Father John Kret, has introduced a "hands on" program in teaching. In this program the students not only learned about the machines but also operated them in lab periods twice a week.

Outside of the classroom activity the students have taken a field trip to Pullman Bank. The department has also heard speakers from Data Processing colleges.

Even with the addition of these new ideas, the Data Processing department still keeps the school's records efficiently. This also included processing record cards, making student schedules, and billing.

Doug Shideler explains to Dan McCray the procedure necessary for proper sorting in order to group the IBM cards.

Supplementing their theory work, Joe Smolinski and Tom Losh observe the accounting machine printing rosters.

Teachers Add New Textbooks, Several Visual Aids

In order to augment the theme of helping students to help themselves, many new textbooks and curriculum changes were added to the business department.

New texts included Retail Merchandising by Wein-gate and Samson and Consumer Economics by Wil-helms, Heimerl and Telley.

Along with the new books were added more visual aids including bookkeeping transparencies and screens and typewriting charts.

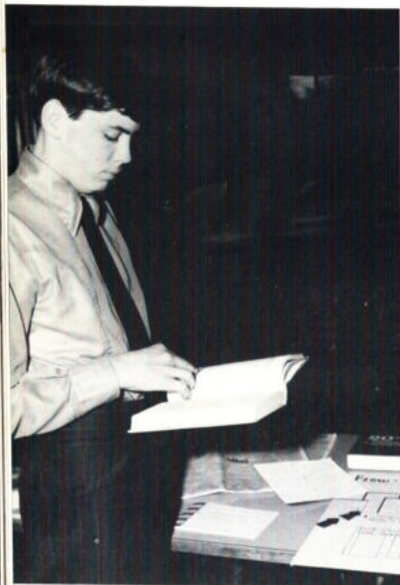

Another curriculum change included a revised class procedure in bookkeeping with better explanations through the use of an overhead projector.

The department also subscribed to magazines and periodicals to help the student with research. Among these were Business World and Consumer Report.

To further the students' interest in business, special field trips were taken to the I.B.M. Corporation and Automation, Inc.

According to Fr. Ronald Turcich, O.S.A., department chairman, this year's main objective was "to produce business fundamentals to the students and a knowledge of business practices and procedures."

Instructor Mr. Harrison Adds New Strength to Gym Staff

With the addition of a new staff member, more emphasis was given to individual attention. Mr. James Diamond, the Department Head, is assisted by Mr. Harrison and Mr. Guida.

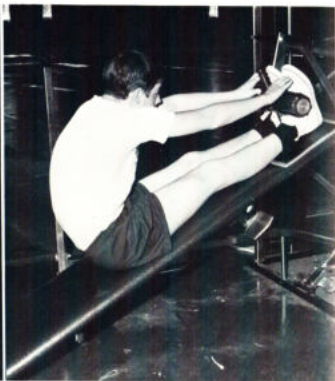

Each student was made aware of his physical capabilities as well as incapacities. A balance of calisthenics and team sports helped to build strength, endurance, and agility. More extensive use of gymnastic equipment helped to reach this objective.

To give the average student an opportunity for competition, the department sponsored an intramural sports program. The students participated in basketball, football, volleyball, and wrestling, and the winning sections were awarded trophies.

One of the objectives to be achieved in a gym program is to learn how to do the various forms of calisthenics in the proper manner. Freshman Tim McManemy, assisted by Mr. Harrison, and Mike Daluga demonstrate the correct positions.

With the acquisition of cassette recorders and programmed learners, the role of the library became more than a place for books. It encouraged research and augmented and enhanced the curriculum — thus giving the student a more complete and enriched program.

In the realm of the guidance department, Mr. Ray Flesher was a consultant in the student's college problems. Also, he provided the college-bound student with an opportunity to meet college representatives who aided in the senior's college selection.

STUDENT LIFE

YOUTH . . . of today

no longer stands alone

The young man of 1971 must be an active youth — striving for the best in sports, organizations, and activities. His goals should be the highest, whether it be in the athletic contest, the club meeting or the homecoming festivities. Above all, today's youth must carry this ardent zeal and desire not only through his high school years but through the rest of his life.

SPORTS

Randy Pettenon and Marty Combs silently and patiently wait for the battle to begin in an practice session.

Many athletic feats can be attributed to the Monarchs. The baseball team, under the direction of a new coach, almost became Catholic City champions; it lost in the finals.

Football teams showed great promise, but it seems that fate was against them as they lost a couple of important games by a single point.

The harriers worked hard and put in long hours of practice. Their efforts were awarded through the honors they won. These awards indicated marked and improved teams over the previous ones.

The wrestlers and their new coach, Mr. Ledin, have their sights set high. Already they have won every match, and took the Mike Murphy tournament for the seventh straight time. They expect to win the city championship.

Basketball teams are the best in the history of the school. The heavyweight and lightweight teams both took first place in the Bro. Rice tournament. They will be strong contenders for the Catholic City title.

All in all, 1970-71 can be termed as another banner year for Mendel's sports. A great number of students participated and developed into type of athletes that everyone wants to see on the Mendel campus.

Boasting 5-4 Season Record, Monarchs Miss Playoffs

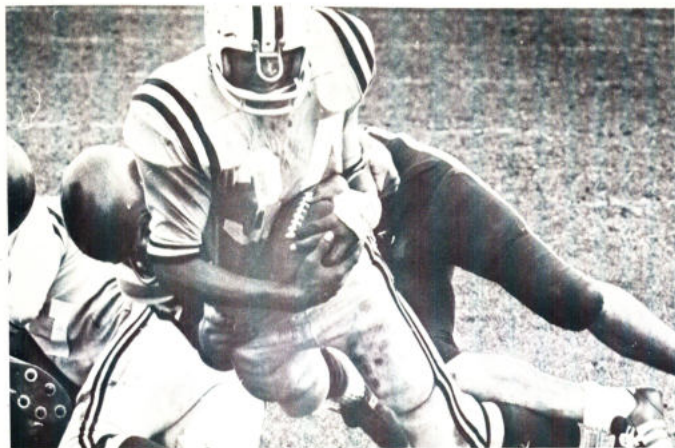

South Section champs in 1968 and 1969, the 1970 Monarchs failed to make the Catholic League playoffs for the first time in the last three years.

The team was a fairly young team with Underclassmen Bob Lopez, Bill Bailey, Tracy Campbell, Mark O'Hare, Steve O'Grady compiling much game time and experience. The defense, led by Co-Captains Nick Abaravich and Bob Supergan, filled the holes caused by graduation and proved to be a rough-and-tumble crew.

The exhibition season saw the Monarchs beat De LaSalle and Weber. The first league game was a heartbreaker as Mendel lost to Fenwick by a single point on a last second disputed call. The frustrating season had begun. Following a win over Mt. Carmel, Mendel lost another game by one point. This to St. Rita 27-26. The homecoming game was lost to Brother Rice, but the following week Hales was smashed.

Six Mendel Monarchs Named Catholic League All-Stars

Leo officially eliminated the Monarchs from post-season activity by squeaking past Mendel 22-15. This game was closer than Leo had anticipated as at one time Mendel held a 7-0 lead. In the final game, the Monarchs upset the Soldier Field-bound St. Laurence Vikings.

The team boasted six Catholic League All-Stars. First team members were Tracy Campbell, Paul Yadron, Ken Ganser, Nick Abaravich, and Bob Supergan. Ed Kress was selected as a second team member. Campbell also led the South Section in scoring with 92 points in 9 games.

'Never Say Die' Attitude Typifies '70 Monarchs

Final weekend of the season saw the Monarchs with a 2-4 league record and settled in fifth place of the South Section, eliminated from any playoff competition. Their opponents, the Vikings of St. Laurence, were riding high in second place. A few surprises were in store for them.

Sophomore Bob Lopez threw a 65-yard scoring pass to Bruce Bentley on the first play of the game. Dan Rakowski kicked the extra point. The Vikings soon came back to put 8 points on the board to take an 8-7 half-time lead.

In the fourth quarter, Tracy Campbell took a screen pass from Lopez and slipped and squirmed 49 yards to the one-yard line and promptly took it over on the next play. The lead did not hold as the Vikings put across another eight points and led 16-13 with a few minutes left.

Instead of giving up, Mendel marched 67 yards down the field with Campbell scoring on a 2-yard run with less than a minute left.

The Monarchs knocked the Vikings into 3rd place.

Dan (Rak) Rakowski, another soccer style kicker, splits the uprights for an extra point. The holder is Bob Supergan.

Sophomore Quarterback Bob Lopez readies to deliver the bomb against the Crusaders. Bob threw eight touchdown passes during the season.

Tom Jones, Frank Neylon, Bruce Harris, put the crunch on Caravan's quarterback.

Little Monarch Gridders Post 3-3 Record After Late Start

Winning their last three games of the season, the Freshman team finished with a 3-3 record. Noteworthy offensive play by Jim Calderone on the ground netted five touchdowns. Also the team of Mike Jedlicka to Nick Vukelich resulted in four more TD's in the air.

First season highlight was the tough game played against Mt. Carmel where the Monarchs lost a heart-breaking 12-6 decision. In another contest the gridders completely out-played Hales, winning 50-8.

Many exciting moments occurred during the final game in which Mike Jedlicka threw a last minute touchdown pass to Mike Vukelich to edge the St. Laurence Vikings.

Joseph Marek, captain of this year's squad shot a commendable 77 in the City Meet. Greg Lumbrazo shot an 83 that helped to give the Monarchs the South Section title over Brother Rice.

Monarchs Make Playoffs, Lose to Hales in Quarter-Finals

Terry Majerski grabs the rebound for Mendel from a St. Rita Mustang while Willis Nance helps out.

For the first time in Mendel's history, the heavyweight team reached a playoff berth with a hard fought 8-4 league record and a third place finish in the South Section. After a commendable overall record, the team was defeated by Hales in a heart-breaking quarter-final game. Failing to make good all their free throws, the Monarchs lost 62-60.

The Heavies finished second place in the Coca-Cola Christmas tournament, losing the championship to Mount Carmel.

After a slow start in league play, the Monarchs came on strong to reach a playoff position and also to honor the Head Coach, Mike Sheahan, in his final year of coaching. The playoff position was made possible when the team crushed the Caravan before a crowd that filled the gym for the first time this year. With another key win over St. Laurence, the Monarchs moved into the playoffs by beating De La Salle and Leo.

Much success of the team was due to South Section All-Stars Lou "Poncho" Gray and Willis Nance, both seniors. Gray led the Catholic league in scoring, and W. Nance was a consistent player often scoring more than twenty points per game.

South Section Champs Lose in Finals by One Point

For the second time in many years, Coach Mike Sheahan brought the lightweight team to the Catholic League playoffs. After downing St. Laurence in the semi-finals, the lights prepared to meet Fenwick for the League title. Although downing Fenwick twice during the pre-season, the Monarchs were seeking revenge for an one-point loss in the teams' third confrontation for the Christmas tournament championship.

A well played game by both teams ended with Fenwick on top of a 54-53 score. Again, the margin of defeat for the Monarchs was one point.

Mendel's South Section champs were led by the fine outside shooting of All-Star Co-captains, Denny St. Leger and Pat Devine, and the rugged rebounding of Ron Williams and Terry Cunningham. Rounding out this starting five was Sophomore Dan McCarthy, the play maker and top defensive "ball hawk."

Another key factor in the success of the team was the unusually strong bench. Easily included in the "starting five" were Seniors Tony Helm, Phil Roche, and Sophomore Dan Maracich.

Pinpoint passing is the main factor of the Monarch's offense as Dan McCarthy passes to Ron Williams against Saint Rita.

Defense, Hustle Contribute to 11-8 Season Record

Led by Co-captains Ken Sitkowski and Mike Heenan, Mendel's Bantams surprised the skeptics with a respectable 11-8 season. Defense and hustle were the keystones of the season. After dropping its first two games, the team won five in a row.

The highlight of the season was a 61-52 victory over Brother Rice on the latter's home court. Without the services of its 6' 5" center, Steve O'Grady, Mendel figured to have a rough afternoon with the Crusaders. However, tireless defense and vicious rebounding, combined with 28 points by Dan Maracich, turned an expected defeat into a spirited victory.

10-2 League Record Brings Second Consecutive Championship

Co-captains Bob Lopez and Joe O'Neill continued their winning ways in flyweight uniforms. Bob's rugged rebounding and Joe's fine outside shooting helped to bring Mendel's fly's their second consecutive South Section Championship.

After a disappointing 2-2 start in the league, the team went on to win eight in a row. The big test came at St. Laurence when the Monarchs faced the fired up first place Vikings. Our cagers jumped to an early lead and were never headed. Two more victories and a Viking defeat gave Mendel sole possession of first place.

Senior, Junior Varsity Teams Finish Season in 3rd Place

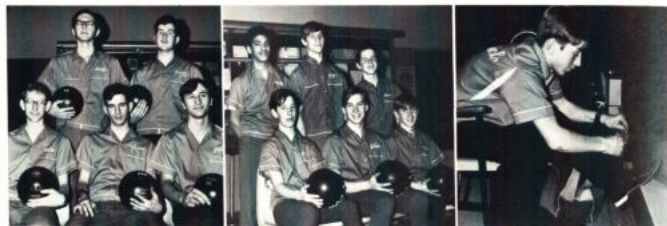

After dropping the first two meets to St. Rita and Leo, the Monarch Senior Traveling team made a turn for the better by defeating Quigley South and St. Laurence. Ending the first round Mendel put down Bro. Rice to finish at the half with a 3-2 record.

The second round was disastrous for the seniors, who were shut out twice. They did, however, manage to defeat Leo and St. Laurence to complete the season with a third place tie with Quigley South.

The junior varsity did well in the first round but suffered the same trauma as the seniors, losing three games during the second half of the season. This gave the junior bowlers a third place finish.

Heavyweight Mark O'Hare gave Mendel the required points for victory by defeating his opponent.

The Monarchs ended their season with 13-2 record. The team had two individual Catholic League champions, Steve Bonner and Edward Kress. Nine of the twelve starters will return for another year.

Varsity Team Boasts Streak of 15 Consecutive Wins

Finishing the season with an 18-6 record, the Varsity team amassed 15 consecutive victories into a winning streak, were South Section Co-Champions, and placed second in the city.

The season's highlight was the game between Mendel and Brother Rice. Mendel went into the seventh inning with a three-run lead, but the first hitter walked and the second was hit by a pitch. Both runners subsequently scored, but Jim Weber retired the side with no more damage for the 4-3 victory. Jim Weber with a 7-3 record, Pat Sheehan with a 6-2, and Paul Sowa with a 4-1 were the leading pitchers. At the plate Mike Manderino, Remo Danielli and Glen Milani led all hitters. The 1971 Co-Captains were Remo Danielli and Jim Weber.

The Freshman-Sophomore team finished the season with a 15-3 record. The season was highlighted by a defense which held the opposing hitters to an average of three runs per game while the offense scored nine runs per game. Ronald Williams led the team in hitting with .600.

Junior Varsity Harriers Take 2nd Place in South Section

Paced by Captain Jim Hammermeister's consistent good finishes, the Mendel Cross Country team completed the league season with a fifth place 2-8 record. In the City Meet the harriers captured eighth place by beating Mt. Carmel, Hales, and De La Salle. The brightest point in the varsity season came with a homecoming sweep over Mt. Carmel and Hales.

George La Banca and Fernando DeFina sparked the Junior Varsity squad. They turned in a brilliant second place finish in the South Section Meet. The Junior Varsity season was highlighted by G. La Banca's first place South Section finish and F. DeFina's record-setting first in the Fenwick Freshman Meet.

Track

Varsity Takes 8th Place, J.V.'s Finish 9th in City Meet

Mr. Ed McAllister and Mr. Pat Quinn coached the track team this season. Although the team's record is not impressive, the trackmen have the ability and determination to develop into championship caliber.

Since the team is young and unexperienced, it will take time for the runners to discover their talents and come together as a strong team.

For this year, there are great hopes for Danny Moore in the high jump, for Walter Alexander in the hurdles, for Jim Hammermeister in the distance, and Gene Rouse in the sprints.

In the near future, Mendel's track team will be a power to be reckoned with in the Catholic League.

ACTIVITIES

In today's fast moving world young people are constantly searching for their place in society. At Mendel an attempt has been made to aid the student in his search for an identity. A socially-orientated program has been established which enables a person to learn more about himself through contact with others. One of the primary instruments available at Mendel is the Sunday Social which is attended by many of the teenagers in the community.

For those who are sports-minded there are the various intramural athletic programs and an occasional ski trip.

Homecoming is a time of great festivities including wild pep rallies and immense crowds at the football game on Sunday. At the end of the social year the Junior and Senior Proms as well as the Senior trip cap a most rewarding year of activities.

All in all it seems a Mendel student has a jump on the other guy in finding out what life's all about.

Cheerleaders

Girls Add School Spirit to Games, Pep Rallies

Mendel experienced a new kind of spirit this fall. Helping to foster this spirit was a group of eleven girls who became Mendel's cheerleaders. Applications for cheerleaders were sent to all neighboring girl schools including Seton, Sorrows, and Longwood. More than one hundred girls replied for try-outs. Out of this number, eleven were chosen by qualified judges. Mr. Patrick Quinn assumed the responsibility of being their moderator. Cheering has improved since their first appearance which was at the Homecoming game.

Concerned Seniors Put New Spirit Into Assemblies

Assemblies and football games had a greater turn-out this fall. The reason for better attendance was due to a small group of seniors belonging to the Pep Committee. During the football games they provided cheers to the spectators in the stands. After the cheerleaders were selected, the Pep Committee still helped with the cheers at all of the assemblies and football games.

The Homecoming assembly was one of the greater events that the Committee sponsored. The Homecoming Queen was presented with her escort plus the rest of the candidates for queen and their escorts.

Then the football team was introduced. One of the captains spoke about the attendance at the games. Finally the newly formed Pep Committee was introduced. Throughout the season the committee worked continuously to strengthen and to build up spirit.

Bob Marshall and other Pep Committee members begin a rousing cheer for all of the student body to follow.

Homecoming

New Modes Necessitate Break With Tradition

Homecoming '70 exploded with the miraculous transformation of Mendel's Pond to a beautiful blue color. Then the newly formed Pep Committee stirred up more excitement with a Pep Rally featuring Coach Guida and the football team. The queen and her court were presented, and the rally was topped off by the appearance of "Gregor of the Pit." That night students and their dates returned to the gym for the traditional sock hop.

Sunday's activities began with the pregame Benny Parade from Mendel to the battlefield at Gately Stadium. Then came the highlight of the weekend, the game with Brother Rice. Halftime saw Claudia Metros, escorted by Dennis St. Leger, crowned Queen of Mendel's Homecoming followed by the presentation of the eleven new girl cheerleaders to the fans. After a poor first half the Monarchs came back strong in the second half but they couldn't quite win.

The California Zephyrs and Yesterday's Tomorrow entertain at the sock hop. Everyone had a good time in the gym.

The pregame Sunday activities begin with the Benny Parade, which included the Freshmen, floats, and the Marching Band.

Open House

French Cafe Tops All Attractions, Exhibits

The Tenth annual Open House was held on Sunday, November 22 under the direction of Father John Tyma. Main attraction was the French Cafe presented by the French IV class under the supervision of Mrs. Sweet. Other students exhibited their talents in the fields of science, mathematics, English, and theology. The Concert band put on performance for all. The National Honor Society provided ushering service and helped everyone enjoy the afternoon.

Rich Jung serves Mrs. Vogt and her son, Tom, in the French Cafe, which was a feature of the language department.

Mrs. Clara Rocco and her two sons, Jeffrey and Greg, an eighth-grader at Sts. Peter and Paul grammar school, examine a project in theology. The collage, depicting life and religion in modern times, was made by a junior, Ron Smith.

Terry Majerski, a National Honor Society member, accompanies Mr. and Mrs. John Wilson and their two sons, David and Paul, to Room 208. They watch in operation a View Deck Machine, which selects colleges according to criteria.

Lunch Hour

Relaxation, Athletics Break Routine Classroom Stress

Ask any student and he will tell you that lunch is his favorite period. Intramural basketball and wrestling were delightful noon hour activities and there was always a game of football or handball being played somewhere. Other students usually liked to take it easy and just relax after having lunch.

Sophomores Henry Doig, Tom Finnegan, and Dan Tobin look over the delicious pies served by cafeteria staff.

The latest news, game victories, and outside activities are the topics of the day discussed by students in this bull session.

Intramurals are great recreation and attraction. During this game Mario Coleman hooks a shot over Bill St. Leger.

When the weather is nice, students like to sit in front of the pond and study a little or just relax.

Larry Wilek looks on as Tom Wojcik makes his move in an interesting game of chess played between bites.

After working hard all morning, these students break the academic routine by enjoying an invigorating football game.

Dances

Knickerbocker Becomes Scene of Senior Prom

Ramada Inn was the scene of the Junior Prom, which took place on May 7. The attending one hundred couples danced to the music presented by the TW-4. A dinner was served to the couples around 11:00 P.M.

The scene of the Senior Prom was the elegant Knickerbocker Hotel. The lighted floor helped to create an atmosphere for dancing and dining. Music was presented by the Joey Ray orchestra.

Besides the regular Sunday Night socials, there were several other dances held throughout the year. These events were sponsored by the different organizations and clubs to help to raise money for their activities.

Juniors and their dates enjoy each other's company while awaiting serving of the dinner at the Ramada Inn.

Vincent Mannino and his date, Miss Denise Valenzio really enjoy their evening by dancing to the fast beats of the band.

Some of the anxious Seniors and their dates wait for a delicious dinner that helped to make the prom so memorable.

One of the principle attractions of the Senior Prom was to dance on the lighted floor of the Knickerbocker Hotel.

Rings, Prom Highlight Traditional Activities

Junior Week began with the Mother's Day Mass on Monday, May 4. The mass was celebrated by the Principal, Fr. Francis Crawford, and the homilist was Fr. Raymond Ryan, O.S.A., of Tolentine College.

Two days later, on May 6, the Father and Son Nite took place in the gym. A magician, Mr. Tousche, supplied the entertainment for the audience.

Following the entertainment, Fr. Ronald Turcich blessed the rings and distributed them to the awaiting students. After the ceremony had concluded, the Juniors and their dads were served refreshments in the cafeteria, compliments of the Mendel Parents Club.

The Junior Prom was held May 8, at the Ramada Inn in Dolton. The dinner-dance was the highlight of the week.

New responsibilities of the students are emphasized in fiery speech given by the Principal, Fr. Crawford.

Juniors and their fathers listen to the school's Principal as the formal activities of the evening came to a close.

After the ring ceremonies the Fathers and their sons went to the school's cafeteria where they enjoyed refreshments.

Intramurals

Champions of Different Sports Receive Trophies

Basketball, wrestling, and bowling were the three intramural sports that attracted students. Any student not belonging to a school team had the opportunity to participate in this program.

In basketball each section was permitted to field two teams, called X and Y teams. Competition continued until playoffs decided a class champion.

Wrestling was divided into different weight categories, and matches took place until a champion was reached for each weight class.

Every Thursday afternoon about fifty students went to the Rose Bowl for intramural bowling.

Mr. Diamond directed basketball and wrestling programs, while Fr. Turcich supervised the bowling.

Reginald Gamble of Section 10 hits the basket for two points. Shirts come off to distinguish one team from another.

Tony Helm wins the championship in his weight class. He overtook Don Stankus and wins 5-3. It was the sixth round.

Wrestling in the 175-lb. class, Bill Bailey loses to Senior Bruce Nelson in the final round of the tournament.

Retreats

School Initiates New Programs for Sophomores, Juniors

Focusing on better student interest, the retreats entered into a different format. The new format proved to be more helpful to the students, by concentrating on individual attention, and by being held away from Mendel. Each group consisted of thirty to thirty-five students. Most of the day was devoted to lively discussion between groups of students. Four Tolentine College students studying for the priesthood, with Fr. Thomas Martin, directed the activities.

Senior retreats, which were closed, were held for three days at various retreat houses throughout the Chicago Metropolitan area.

The freshman retreat took place during Tuesday and Wednesday of Thanksgiving week. Mendel Chapel was the scene of the various activities during these days of renewal.

After a movie had been shown, Frank La Grone, Kerry Bruno, Mr. Roy Silecki, and Bob Wilmsen consider its aims.

Mr. Russell Grieshaber, a student from Tolentine College, clarifies a point to Nicholas Moldovan and his classmates.

Harvey Restaino, John McFarland, Jim Singleton, and Mr. Robert Pare discuss ways of becoming better Christians.

Three Mendel Men Become National Merit Finalists

Following a Mendel tradition, scholastic achievement has been evident. Three seniors were named finalists in the National Merit Scholarship competition, and a fourth became a semi-finalist in the National Achievement Scholarship competition.

In February, Mendel's First Honors list numbered sixty-six, including twenty-five seniors, sixteen juniors, fourteen Sophomores, and eleven Freshmen. The Second Honors certificates were awarded to 118.

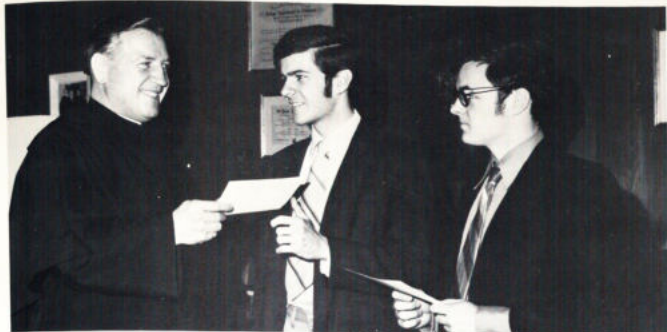

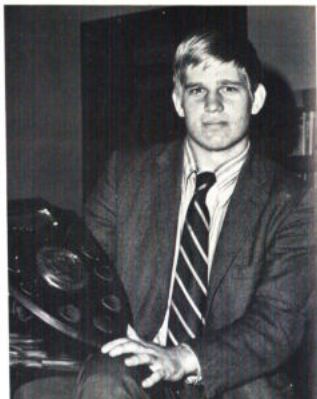

Michael Hickey received a certificate and a savings bond after he appeared on "It's Academic," a local television program. He also accepted an Evans Scholarship which was awarded for caddying.

Nicholas Abarevich receives the Outstanding Student Athlete award in honor of Dr. William T. Osmanski from the Holy Cross College Club of Chicago. The award was presented in January.

William Cruikshank, a senior, was named a Semi-Finalist last November in the Achievement Scholarship Program.

Principal Fr. Francis Crawford, O.S.A., presents the Finalists, William McCullough and Michael Foley with certificates of Merit in the National Merit Scholarship Program. Absent for the picture is a third Merit Finalist, Ewald Horwath.

A Knights of Columbus scholarship for leadership and scholastics is awarded to Pete Zaluzec.

John Ormsby receives a first place gold medal for city checker champion in high school division.

Daniel Stumpf is named The Most Valuable Player in COMS, a district Park League football team.

Dennis Trevor wins a certificate representing honors group in the Westinghouse Science Talent Search contest.

Outstanding 4-H Club work in citizenship, leadership, and achievement merits David Comer a State certificate.

Operation: Patrick Henry program awards Leonard Elliott a trophy and a certificate for his public speaking.

ORGANIZATIONS

To be dubbed an "educated man" today means much more than just learning the facts. It involves people and learning how to live with them — an art that is learned after the books are put away.

Although Mendel has no new organizations this year, involvement in the present ones can help the student learn the art of inter-acting with each other. If one's interests is found in journalism, the school newspaper and yearbook are good playing fields. For those who enjoy public speaking, the Debate and Forensics team can offer much satisfaction. The person who enjoys people will prefer the K. of A., the Afro-American club or the Y.C.S.

Thus, any Mendel Man who belongs to an organization not only helps to educate himself, but also performs a service to his school. He also helps his fellow student by providing opportunities to mingle and to enjoy each other's company.

Final plans have been made for the January 3 Pledge Ceremony.

Mendel Spirit

News-Sheet Reports Current "Happenings" Bi-Monthly

Mendel's first bi-monthly news-sheet brought to the students school events which sparked the "spark" of the student body. It also captured and reflected the enthusiasm of our various school programs. This was done not only on the social level but also on the academic plane through news from various school offices and schedules of upcoming plans. Membership was kept abreast on all aspects of Mendel life. In the area of sports, accounts and statistics of the more recent athletic events were presented.

The Mendel Spirit is under the direction and supervision of the Moderator, Rev. Mr. Michael O'Connor. The new Editor-in-Chief is John Macukas, who was appointed last September.

School Newspaper Adds More Editorials, Features

Our school newspaper has strived for better journalistic qualities. With the improved discipline and increase of the staff members, the editors have produced more articles. The Moderator, Mr. Thomas Taylor, and the seven editors hoped to repeat last year's performance of receiving First Class Award Honor rating from the National Scholastic Press Association in Minneapolis.

The newspaper staff has removed the "Suggestion Box" and renovated the "Morgue." Since the editors have encouraged students to take more interest in the editorial and complaint columns, more students have voiced their opinions. Also, the paper has accepted the policy to publish more features and news.

Staff Wins Awards, Adds 8 Freshman Photographers

If the 1971 Monarch duplicates the achievement of the 1970 yearbook, it will be due to the leadership, effort, and talent of its staff. The 1970 Monarch received an A+ award from the National School Yearbook Association, an All-American from the National Scholastic Press Assn., and the Medalist award from the Columbia Press Assn., New York City.

Eleven sophomores and eight freshmen underwent a training program under the direction of the Adviser of the Monarch, Fr. La Vern Flach, John Barriball was the Editor-in-Chief, with four assistant editors.

Band

Concert Trip to Michigan Heads Band's Activities

A week-end trip to Holland, Michigan highlighted the concert schedule. In Holland, the band performed for the students of St. Augustine Seminary. More important of the parades and concerts was a performance at Midway Airport welcoming Frontier Airlines. Other events in the busy schedule were the Christmas Concert, St. Patrick's Day Parade and the Memorial Day Parade. The Spring Festival concert and the Graduation performance climaxed the year.

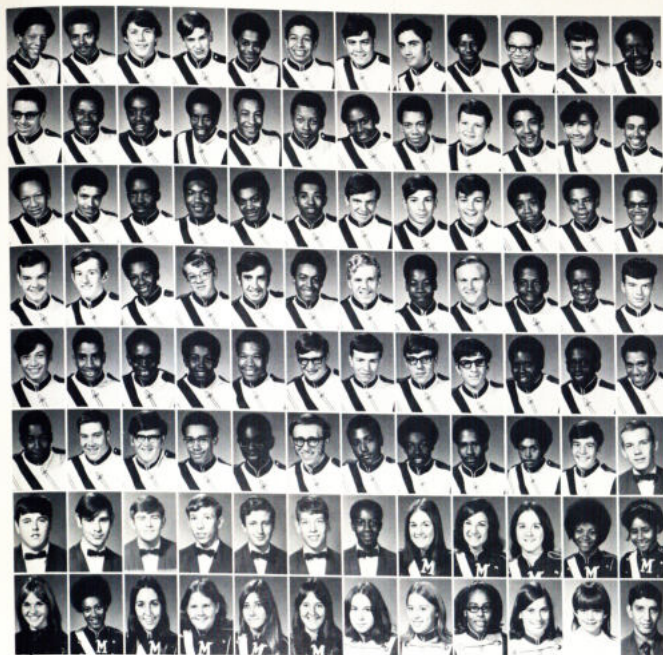

The officers were Nathaniel Sterling, President; Anthony Colbert, Vice President; Frank LaGrone, Secretary; and John Macukas, Treasurer. The band is directed by Mr. Dominic Plane with Mr. Daniel Williams as his assistant. Fr. John Kret is its moderator.

Augustinian Fraternity Welcomes 23 Pledged Members

In its second year at Mendel, the Knights of Augustine have presented to themselves and other goals and values that have made a difference. Based on their Motto "Concern through Action" they have created fraternity among the membership and gone out to help meet the needs of others.

The year's activities included sponsoring a field day, Christmas party, and basketball game for the children of St. Joseph's Home. Outside the help given to these children, they collected money for the Augustinian Mission in Peru and conducted a Christmas drive for the poor of Mississippi. Expanding their interests and concern, they executed an "afternoon at the races," for the elderly people of St. Joseph's in Palentine. The highlighting event of the year was the pledge ceremony held at Tolentine College. Twenty-three members were accepted into the Third Order, and 22 were accepted on probation for one year.

Student Senate

Members Write Constitution, Complete Dress Code Reform

When the New Constitution was completed and ratified, work began on varied fields of student interest.

A committee was formed to consult the students and their parents on dress code changes. Two months later a new dress code was put into effect.

Another committee formulated some directives for the use of the newly built student lounge.

The representatives planned the junior and senior proms, homecoming events, and rules for gym care.

Debate & Forensics

Speechmen Take 3rd at Annual National Tournament

In the National Catholic-Public League tournament at Pittsburgh, Mendel placed third out of over one hundred participating schools.

The debate team has taken part in several other invitational tournaments. At Battle Creek, Michigan, the team of Ewald Horwath, Cortez Hawkins, Siro Pieri, and John Coogan placed fourth of 19 schools with a 5-3 record. Later at Fenwick, Mendel took first place.

The Forensics team started their year at a tournament with Aquinas Dominican, where they placed fifth of 26 teams. A fourth place position was gained at the Brother Rice tournament.

Members Support Drives to Aid Local Community

Eagerness to aid the community was shown by the members of the Key Club when they engaged themselves in different activities. The Key Clubbers worked with the Lions Club to sell candy and with the Kiwanis Club to sell peanuts. They also helped to fight birth defects by collecting for the March of Dimes. They worked in the Leukemia Drive and sponsored a hay ride in order to supply funds to send 20 delegates to a state convention in Rockton, Illinois.

Fr. Ronald Turcich, O.S.A., is the Moderator of the Club. The officers are President Robert Dudzik, Vice President Robert Puchalski, Secretary Dennis Unton, and Treasurer John Tromp.

Showing community interest, Tom Battistella collects for the March of Dimes. Mr. Albin Long makes a donation.

Making plans for convention are Bob Puchalski, Bob Dudzik, John Tromp, Den Unton, Fr. Turcich, and Leon Pioszaj.

Mrs. Anne Grapenthin happily gives a donation to Senior Tony Zmucki for her support of the leukemia victims.

All-Senior Membership Group Offers Tutoring Services

Qualifications for membership in the National Honor Society are outstanding academic achievement, participation in extracurricular activities and high personal qualities. Many of the members have received scholarships or commendations.

Among the services performed this year were ushering visitors at Open House and tutoring students who requested extra help with their studies. Benefits received from these tutoring services and proceeds from a dance went towards the purchase of a dark blue blazer for each member.

Fr. John Tyma, O.S.A., who is Moderator of the organization, is assisted by President Ewald Horwath, Vice President Rudolph Pesut, Secretary Terrence Majerski, and Treasurer Dennis Trevor.

Chess Club

Mr. Fleisher Introduces Intramural Chess Program

Intramural Chess program was introduced for the first time at Mendel. Although many students entered the program, only twelve remained to participate in the tournament. This program started with the intention that it would be experimental. Evaluation has indicated that improvements must be made to attract more students.

Excellent spirit prevailed among the members of the traveling team. The Club is a member of the Catholic Chess Conference, but it did not distinguish itself with a good record in competition.

The Moderator, Mr. Raymond Fleisher, was assisted by President Richard Jung, Vice President John Coogan, Secretary Charles Works, and Treasurer James Zajac.

Science Club

Membership Grows, Trips Increase, Activities Expand

For many years, the Science Club has been encouraging extracurricular scientific investigation. This year has been no exception. However, due to an increased membership, and subsequently more diverse interests, the Science Club expanded its activities. These include semi-weekly movies, which described many recent scientific enterprises; student seminar programs, enabling members to prepare their projects for the District and State Science Fairs; and field trips to several local research laboratories.

Collections of Food, Clothing Aid Riot-Stricken Areas

Co-ordinating the leadership abilities of the founding seniors, with the advice of Fr. Thomas Martin and Mr. Charles Moss, the Afro-American Club is a functioning organization within the school. The regular weekly meetings, held every Wednesday, presented materials such as movies, slides, records, for discussions relative to Black awareness. Segments of the movie series "Of Black America" were shown, and recordings of speeches by Dr. Martin Luther King and Malcolm X were played.

The year's activities included the Black Homecoming Dance and participation in the Angela Davis Defense Committee. The Club also donated collections of food and clothing to the United Front of Cairo.

The "Group III Newsletter" is the official written expression of the Club's viewpoints and opinions.

Weekly Contributions Aid Peruvian Earthquake Victims

Important to each missionary laboring in Peru is the weekly voluntary contribution of the Mendel students. These funds were badly needed for the earthquake victims who live in the Augustinian missions of Peru. These donations were added to the financial aid necessary to restore the heavily damaged property. They also helped to rebuild the Church of Chalo which was demolished and replaced as well as other small chapels in the Province of Morropon.

Many homes were inhabitable, and due to the rains the families lived in them until better weather permitted these homes and other buildings to be demolished and rebuilt.

Fr. Joseph Hennessey, O.S.A., is the Moderator of the Mission Club. Each week two representatives from each homeroom collected the donations.

Joe Cardinal, who is the Mission Representative for Section 4, collects a donation from Ricardo Lopez.

Young Christian Society

Discussion Group Expresses Opinions on Student Clubs

Principally a discussion group, the Y.C.S. Planned several projects. Ideas for a newspaper were considered, but later dropped due to a lack of writers and organized workers.

Another project discussed was the ecological crisis. It is hopeful that a day, preferably Earth Day, would be set aside to inform both students and teachers on the pollution threat.

The Y.C.S. became involved with some of the problems of the students. The group felt that the school newspaper should be freer in its editorial policies. It also reasoned that the student senate should be a more powerful organ to represent the students.

The Society sent two representatives to Youth and Government Seminars held at Springfield, Ill.

Parents Club

Turkey Shoot, Dinner-Dance Highlight Year's Activities

In continuing to assist Mendel the Parents Club has raised money to improve the school. They raised this money through their annual membership drive and other fund raisers. Part of the money was used towards scholarships for sons of deceased members.

The Parents Club sponsored the Turkey Shoot in November and the Cadillac raffle in May. Besides these events their Christmas meeting featured a concert by the Mendel band. At their January meeting held at the Martinique the Club was entertained by Douglas Fairbanks, Jr.

The Club was moderated by Fr. Ronald Turcich, O.S.A. and Mr. Thomas Taylor, O.S.A. Leadership of the Club was under Mrs. Lorraine Nagin and her officers. The plans for the future are to continue to assist the school and strive for a larger active membership.

UNDERCLASSMEN

YOUTH . . . in a changing world

that demands so much

The high school student of today, whether he be a freshman, sophomore, or junior must strive for the top in academics and activities. He must accept the challenge of a difficult exam, going through practice drills, stand up to any and all challenges. All of these are the keys to maturity which the youth of 1971 must master to solve the problems in the world today. Only then will he be ready and mature to face the challenges of the future.

JUNIORS

A Mendel Junior is a committed individual who faces several decisions and responsibilities. Everyday he proves himself to be equal to these new responsibilities. He looks forward to the day when he can assume leadership and participate in senior activities and events.

Already considering the possibilities of a future education, the college board exams are things of the past. Amidst a whirl of activities, he participated enthusiastically in athletic games, attended socials and became involved in programs. The unforgettable Junior Week and the Prom climaxed the exciting and eventful year. He received his ring as a symbol of his leadership and status among his fellow students. Possessing this seal of approval, the Junior is well prepared to accept the responsibilities that are identified with senior year.

SOPHOMORES

One year of experience has fully established the Sophomore into patterns of Mendel. During this time the Soph conquered the atmosphere of the campus and detected the techniques of his teachers.

His participation in homecoming activities, his strength on the football field, his work in the different clubs, such as the Mendelian, Debate, and the band, and his super salesmanship in the Candy Drive have shown how he plunged into all phases of school life.

He and his classmates were strongly represented on the athletic teams. The junior varsity wrestling and basketball teams achieved enviable records and owed much of their success to the spirit of participation.

As the Sophomore progressed from month to month, new responsibilities faced him. He tackled these responsibilities and succeeded in his studies in a way that gained for him a new prestige.

FRESHMEN

A very important time in the student's life is his freshman year. During this time he must make the all-important transition from grammar school to high school. He must be ready to accept the bigger and new challenges of his high school life.

A freshman is surrounded by a new and strange world and by new and different people. He was ignorant of the daily routine. As the year went by he learned to get involved and to be a part of the school for Mendel would be his new home for four years. The Class of '74 participated enthusiastically in all phases of extracurricular activity. This year's freshmen had strong showings in football, cross country, and wrestling. They participated in the annual homecoming "bennie" parade and were members of the debate team, science club and the Mendelian. By the end of the year the daily schedule became routine. The freshmen were now a part of Mendel.

Meeting well their new challenges, they stand ready to meet and accept new ones and to make their high school years four of the most important years of their life.

Acknowledgements

The making of a yearbook is a process that involves the work and co-operation of many individuals. In recognizing this fact, we, the editors, would like to thank Mr. Tony Guasti and Mr. Joe Schmidt of Capri Studios for their (imaginative) photography.

We are also indebted to Mr. Kenneth Nemsick of Taylor Publishing Company for his professional hints and Fr. Thomas Nash, O.S.A. for his editorial assistance.

Of course the greatest part of this process depends on the Monarch staff itself. We would like to thank these students for giving their time and effort to help record this year in Mendel's history.

Finally, we would like to express our deep appreciation and thanks to Fr. La Vern Flach, O.S.A., our Adviser, whose constant work and patience has taken our divergent talents and organized them into the 1971 Monarch.
