A high school is many things. It is a complex living organism of numerous facilities, programs, activities, and, above all, people.

A Yearbook is a record of all these things. It is a book of memories — memories to be cherished by faculty and students, especially those students who have attained to the desirable status of alumni. It is our sincerest hope that the 1972 Monarch will prove an adequate record and an abundant source of memories of the school year 1971-72.

To Mr. William Kampa, Moderator, to Pete Krafcisin, Editor, and to all those who helped in the production of our 1972 Monarch, go the sincerest thanks of the entire Mendel Family.

Fr. Edward T. LaMorte, O.S.A.

Football

The Mendel gridders got off to a poor start this season when they succumbed to a tough St. Rita Team. In fact, the 1st half of the season looked dismal to Mendel fans. However, the team did not give in to adversity. Withstanding painful injuries to key players, the team managed to clinch a play-off berth by beating Brother Rice on the last day of the season. In the playoffs, Mendel valiantly bid for victory against the eventual City Champions, St. Rita. However, a late scoring drive by Rita proved the margin of victory as the Monarchs lost 28-21.

The Mendel freshman team turned in another fine season as they finished with a 6-1 record. Led by outstanding team blocking and several fine young backs, the "bennies" will definitely aid the varsity next season.

Basketball

Under new head coach Steve Antrim, the Mendel Monarchs once again vied for play-off berths in both the lightweight and heavyweight classes. Noted for their team defenses and fast breaks, both major teams made the play-offs for only the second time in the school's history.

The Monarchs, after chalking up 2 consecutive wins in match play against Mt. Carmel and St. Lawrence recorded their only loss in the 1st half to eventual City Champion Brother Rice. Mendel then proceeded to win their next 3 matches until once again they were stopped by the strong Brother Rice team.

Track

The track results for the past year proved a disappointment to many. A less than impressive record does not tell the whole story, however. Led by an impressive array of underclassmen, the Monarchs gamely fought off injuries and placed well in both the South Sectional and City meets. ## Graduation

A graduation ceremony culminates four long years of work at any high school. But in a larger sense, a graduation can only capture a small part of the day's emotions as exhilaration of accomplishment mixes freely with the sadness of departing a unique section of one's life and venturing into the unknown challenge of a modern world.

Each graduate leaves Mendel by reciting:

"With a solemn sense of my responsibility . . . I pledge myself . . . to hold my diploma as a sacred trust . . . An Emblem of my obligation to serve . . . to hold it with untarnished honor to myself . . . in generous loyalty to Mendel . . . and with fidelity to my God, my country and my fellow-men."

ACADEMICS

*. . . the source,
and product,
of CHANGE*

Principal Sparks Spirit, Change

Perhaps best described as "an educator," Fr. Edward LaMorte, O.S.A., has carried out a policy of updating and emphasizing scholastics from his position as principal. Fr. LaMorte has formerly been Director of Instructional Materials at Saint Rita High School, and Head of Teacher Preparations at Tolentine College. No newcomer to Mendel, he was a member of the original Mendel faculty. Far from being solely concerned with academics, Fr. LaMorte has shown much interest in all phases of student life. He is especially proud of the revitalization of the Student Senate. Because of the obvious pride he has in himself, Fr. LaMorte is a fitting example for all "Mendel Gentlemen."

Fr. Daniel J. Hartigan, O.S.A., has completed his fourth year as Prior of the Mendel Monastery. He exemplifies dedication in that he has continued interest in Mendel since its inception in 1951.

New Administration Revives Mendel

The administration coordinates the entire network of activities we call Mendel. Student affairs, faculty functions and building maintenance all fall under their efficient management.

At the head of the Mendel family is Fr. Edward LaMorte. As principal, Father has embarked on a program of greater participation by all facets of the community. Responsibility and communication are the goals of his "open door policy" with both faculty and students being extended an increased voice in school affairs. Hopefully, this will permit the development of a Christian citizen who is both aware and capable of meeting the demands of modern society.

Fr. John Tyma, O.S.A., is the Director of Studies and Chairman of the Curriculum Council. He prepares student and teacher schedules, handles student registrations, and records.

Fr. Ronald Turcich, O.S.A., who is Dean of Students in charge of discipline, supervises student attendance and conduct. His office directs the enforcement of school regulations.

Fr. Thomas Martin, O.S.A., Director of Religious Activities, provides a program of meaningful religious education. Class retreats and days of renewal supplement this program.

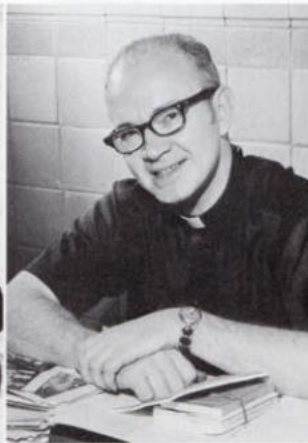

Fr. Erwin Dodge, O.S.A., as Activities Director, coordinates the events and activities of the school. His duties include the monthly calendar and conducting school assemblies.

Mr. William Hamill, O.S.A., who is director of Athletics, supervises all athletic activities and schedules. He promotes spirit among the students and acts as the students' mediator.

Fr. Joseph Stobba, O.S.A., Curriculum Coordinator, works closely with the Guidance and studies departments to continually review and revise Mendel's curriculum.

Fr. Michael Hogan, O.S.A., Guidance Director, coordinates guidance programs and watches student scholastic progress. His staff does educational counseling and conducts testing programs.

Mr. Terrence Kavanagh, while not a voting member, attends administration meetings as Faculty Representative to present the views of the lay Faculty.

SENIORS

A unique year of man's life happens after he has completed three years of high school. The final year, senior year, gives the annual school events a new dimension and meaning by suddenly realizing the purpose of homecoming, dances, football games, and more specially the prom and graduation. In this respect senior year is unique, because it culminates three years of experience in a year of change. The final year sees youths become men, attitudes turn to ideals, and followers become leaders. Within these changes are the tensions of aggravation and disappointment in failure, and the jubilation and confidence in success. Upon finishing his last year at Mendel, the senior leaves his sheltered life and enters into a competitive and challenging society. In the ensuing years of successes and failures, senior year will be ever present in his mind, heart, and soul.

JUNIORS

The days of student inactivity and apathy have dissipated as displayed by this year's junior class. The Mendel juniors of today face more than the problem of passing a history exam. They face more problems and frustrations than any other class. They must consider the possibilities of college. They are molded by the pressures of fellow classmates in the attempt to be fitting leaders. Then they reach their pinnacle of pride and status as they receive their rings, the symbol of excellence. A junior knows that he is among others who will know and respect him as a responsible Mendel senior

SOPHOMORES

Surviving the fears of freshman year, learning to understand the teachers, getting acquainted with the school, and above all, striving to know themselves, the class of '74 achieved the goal of true Mendel Men. Support given the school spirit and more knowledge learned about true selves during the freshman year helped the sophomores find true class identity. In the spirit of fun, the second year men beat the bennies in the homecoming tug-of-war. They outdid themselves in making open house a success. Many sophomores excelled in sports, were active in clubs and organizations, especially Debate, Mendelian, and Band. Finding themselves confronted with high school academic competition, they met the challenge courageously. Reaching out for all facets of prep life — extracurricular participation, academic development, high aims, and determination set the sophomores on the right road to success.

FRESHMEN

Study, Writing, Effort

A crucial period in the student's life is his freshman year. During this time, he undergoes an important transition from grammar school to high school life. The Freshman enters Mendel like a baby enters the world — in darkness. He is thrust into unfamiliar surroundings, lost among new faces, and is confronted with the obligations of a high school career. He faces the challenges of demonstrating initiative, manifesting dedication, showing perseverance, and promoting school spirit — traits that make him a true Mendel Man. Gradually, he becomes accustomed to his new way of life. He discovers that the rewards of his high school years depend upon the efforts he puts into them. He learns to participate in the school's activities — learning to give of himself to his school.
