Dear Graduates of 1986,

As Halley's Comet passes within view of our planet, we are reminded of its continuous journey through the vastness of space. This visit of Halley's Comet may give you cause to reflect on your journey through life.

Four years ago your journey brought you to Mendel Catholic High School. You came with your many God-given gifts and talents, and during the past four years which may have seemed like an eternity, you had an opportunity to develop these gifts and talents as a preparation for your leg of life's journey

Mendel's faculty and staff have witnessed your physical, intellectual, and spiritual growth. We have seen your joy during times of success, and we have seen your tears during time of sadness. Throughout the past four years, it is our hope as a faculty that we have supported and encouraged you in your endeavors, recognized your achievements, and challenged you to develop all of your God-given gifts and talents. In doing so, we, the faculty and staff of Mendel, were not only helping you through the four year of high school but preparing you for your life's journey

Your journey continues just like Halley's Comet. Therefore, it is our prayer that you continue to find the support, encouragement, recognition, and challenge that can make your journey a happy one; and may you learn to give the same to others as they journey through life.

As you begin the next leg of your journey, go with the best wishes and congratulations from the entire Mendel Family Finally, treasure, as a gift, our final lesson for your journey, and it is: The positive always defeats the negative, courage overcomes fear, patience overcomes anger and irritability, and love overcomes hatred.

Sincerely yours in Christ,

Rev. Donald R. Lewandowski OSB

Homecoming '85

Homecoming is a special odyssey during the year for Mendel. It is a time to exhibit the great Mendel spirit and pride. It is a time to stop choking by unloosening your tie. It is a time for intergalactic games of skill during the fourth and fifth lunch periods. It is a time for designing buttons. It is a time to crown the Homecoming King and Queen. It is a time for the Homecoming Parade down King Dr. to Gately Stadium. It is a time to "get it up" at the pep rally and at the game. It is a "time to Jack" at the victory set after the game. It is mostly a time for the Monarch Football to reach for the stars and grab one.

Junior Prom

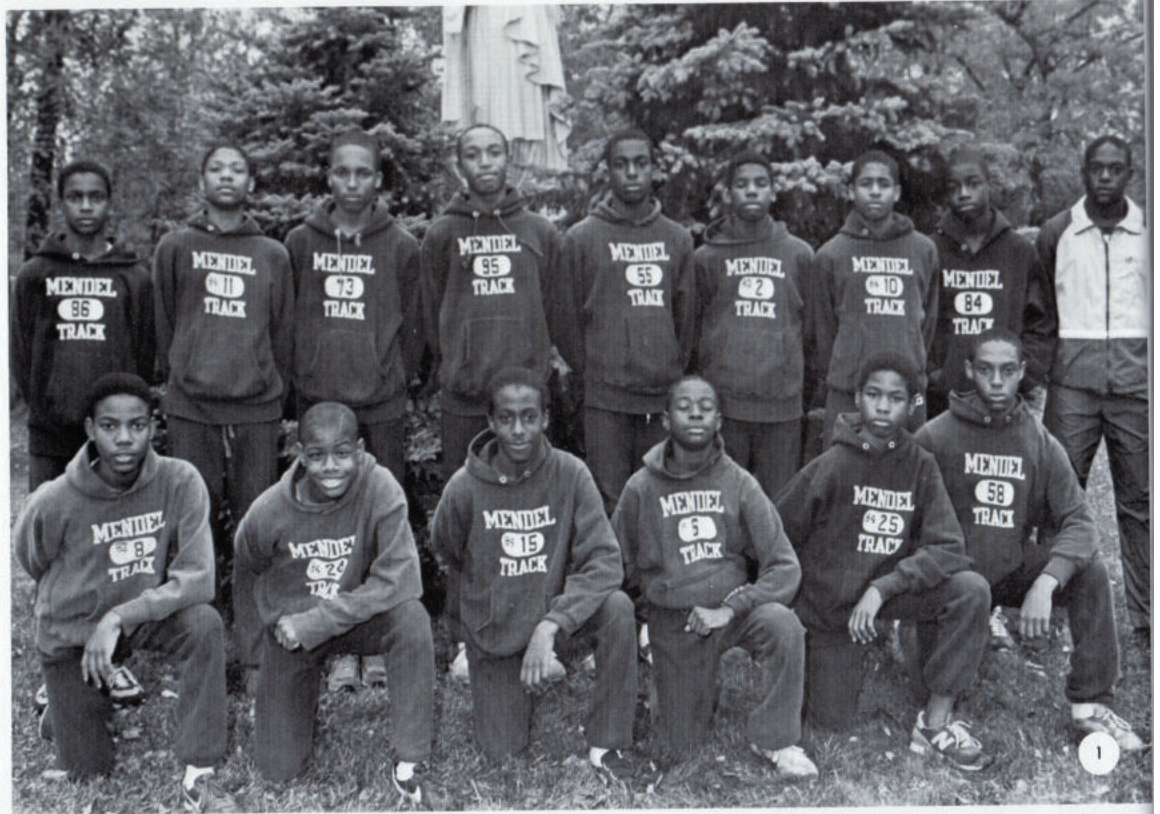

With every day Halley's comet gets closer and closer. With every day summer vacation gets closer and closer. With every day graduation gets closer and closer. Each day we move closer and closer to prom. Both Jr. and Sr. proms are times of better getting to know classmates. A romantic time to be with the one you supposedly love, and a time to very quickly reflect on the past years. Prom time should be spent talking, laughing, dancing, and just having a good time. It should not be spent showing off, or figuring out what hotel to go to, or who's date looks the best. Prom is a part of high school and high school is a part of prom. We must learn to use this period wisely, to relax and to enjoy. After all, it's not a wedding . . .

1. Fr. Lewandowski makes sure everyone is comfortable.
2. Lawrence Moore struts the moves of the future.
3. Fr. Schweiffler strikes a pose with a parent and fellow teacher.
4. Juniors present Mrs. Seifert with a plaque for Outstanding Moderator Services.

6. Roscoe Pitts finally made it. "Am I late?"

PLANETARY GAMES:
Sports

The seven stars of the Big and Little Dippers are part of the constellation Ursa Major. All seven stars appear to circle daily about the North Star. The 1985 Freshman and Sophomore teams consisted of many stars. Both teams presented their depth, determination, and flexibility to win Key invitationals such as Gordon Tech, Quigley South, and Quigley North. Their depth was presented without top sophomore, Ramel Werner, who showed flexibility by being able to run tactically on the sophomore level and aggressively on the varsity level. Key performances also came from freshmen, Norrice Quarles, Brian Kinsey, and Mwata Dyson. The overall team was determined enough to emerge as Mendel's most victorious squad in 10 years.

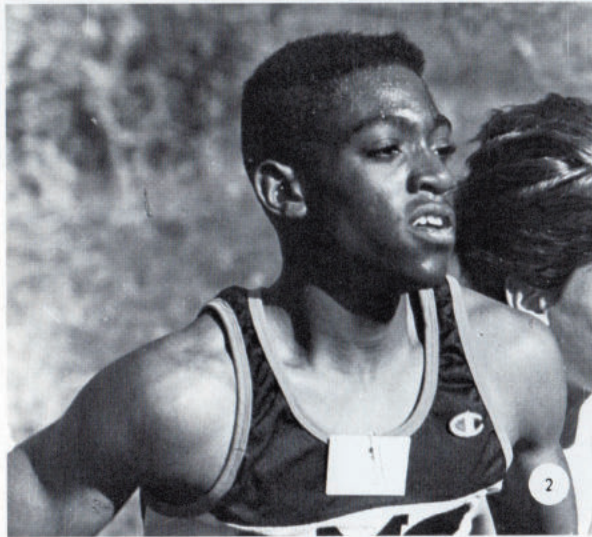

1. FRESHMAN TEAM MEMBERS — (l-r) Back Row: P. Wilson, S. Carter, D. Martin, N. Quarles, S. Gill, B. Kinsey, M. Dyson, M. Davis, and Coach Bernard Wortham. Front Row: A. Shavers, A. Stokes, M. Harris, M. Fortson, J. Williams, K. Green.
 2. Aaaaaah!!!
 3. Eugene Mason, just going with the flow.
 4. Mwata Dyson, a leader in time.
 5. Aaron Shavers, "Is it much further?"
 6. SOPHOMORE TEAM MEMBERS — (l-r) Front Row: R. Alston, D. Williams, M. Richards, E. Richardson. Back Row: A. Boston, R. Werner, J. White, B. McKaskill, E. Mason.

Space Voyagers

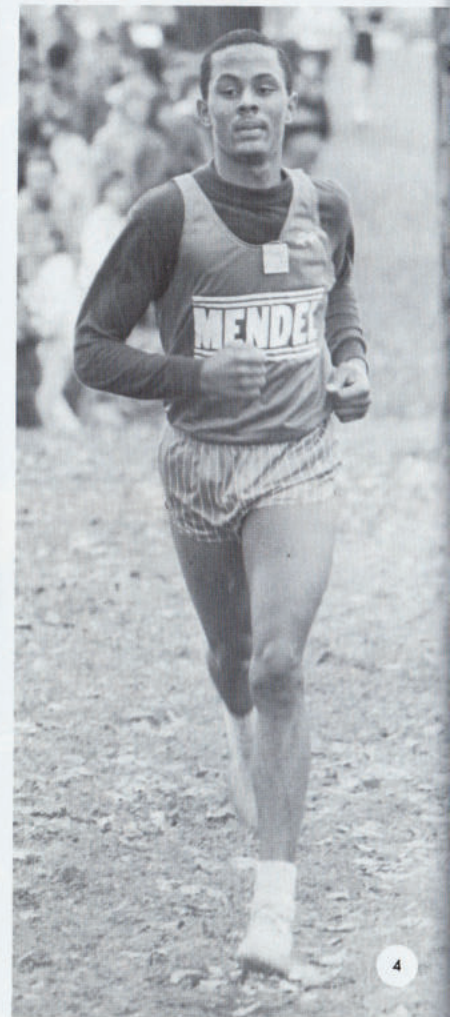

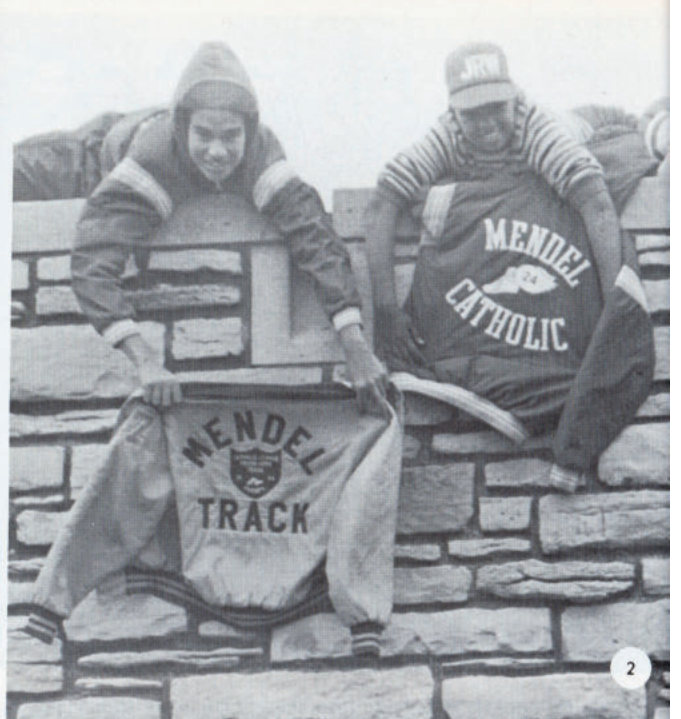

Meet the 1985 Cross Country Space Voyagers. "Space" is the key word because space was all there was between the Monarchs and the rest of the I.H.S.A. The season was one of firsts for the Voyagers as they were the victors in such meets as The Gordon Tech Invitational, a dual meet with St. Laurence, both the Quigley North and the Quigley South Invitationals, and most importantly, The Catholic League. Probably the most important "first" was that the 1985 Space Voyagers placed 7th in the State of Illinois, something that has never been accomplished in the history of the school. Much credit goes to Coach Mike Garcia. He has turned the entire program around in the right direction. He has confidence in the team and high goals that he hopes to one day reach.

Under the leadership of Senior Captains Carnice Brown and Rodney Chambers, the Voyagers will set out on another journey to improve at even greater lengths, and to show that they are Number One!

1. James Debardelaben heads for the finish.
2. Sr. Captain Carnice Brown, working hard.
3. George Kinsey receives his award from Fr. Lewandowski.
4. Sr. Rodney Chambers, all alone and out in front.
5. VARSITY MEMBERS — l-r: Front Row: R. Carey, K. Davis, T. Daniel, C. Fields, B. Washington, A. Norris, S. Hall. 2nd Row: T. Dowdell, C. Brown (Captian), J. Dancer, E. Frazier, J. Debardelaben, B. Collum, (Mgrs.) L. Wilcher and J. Anderson. Back Row: R. McKenzie, V. Harris, R. Chambers (Captain), G. Kinsey, R. Werner, Craig Wright, E. McCarty.
6. Coach Garcia, practicing what he preaches.
7. Sam Hall shows perfect form and complete dedication.
8. The Voyagers are stunned as they view their next target.

6. The team that runs together, wins together.
7. Dion Williams always finishes strong.

A New Discovery . . .

As we all know, in 1986 Halley's Comet returns bringing with it memories of past years. These memories can be traced through the stars and constellations. As seniors reflecting on freshman memories we see and remember the following ideas and thoughts. We remember the first day in a large, new high school, the first time we had to eat food served in our cafeteria, the first time we were late and juggled. As the comet moves across the sky to begin another voyage, it takes with it memories of our freshman year and leads us into remembering our sophomore year. Farewell freshman year, farewell comet . . .

The stars in the sky are shining bright in the constellations that cover the earth's atmosphere. These constellations have been around for years and have memories that go back a lifetime. As the Senior Class looks back on the memories held in the stars and constellations, we recall our Sophomore year. We remember the first day, we saw the incoming freshmen and felt we had some level of authority. We remember going out for a second year of athletic competition trying to do it better than our freshman year. We also recall having to get used to cafeteria food after a summer of eating lunches made at home. Farewell sophomore year, for as the world turns the constellations move through the sky taking with it our memories.

Our junior year brought us closer to viewing the comet that all of mankind awaits. Halley's Comet comes just once every seventy-six years and next year will be that time. The comet will bring reflections of the past. Thinking of the past we remember Junior Prom and receiving our class rings. As juniors, we remember finally competing on the varsity level of athletic competition. Our junior year also brought another year of trying to dodge jug class. Farewell Junior year. Farewell memories. Next year will bring the comet and our senior year.

The Comet is here . . .

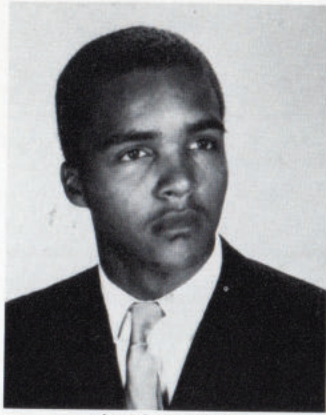

Like the people of Earth who eagerly await the comet, the Senior Class eagerly awaits graduation. Like the new star on the horizon, the Senior Class has witnessed everything from raffle tickets to Saturday suspensions.

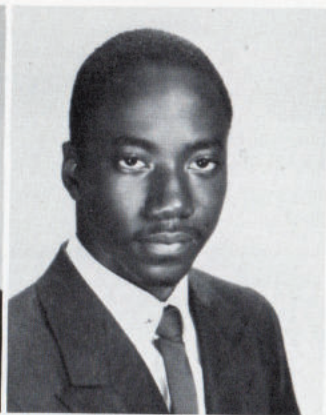

A new principal, spinning like the new comet, is in our midst. A new disciplinarian, bringing a new order to our universe, has also appeared on the horizon. Like the Class of 1986, the comet is about to reach its peak. Graduation and Prom will herald its arrival. As the comet flashes by, look into the sky and watch the Senior Monarchs of 1986 begin their voyage to the farthest reaches of the cosmos.

THE END OF A GALAXY:
Closing

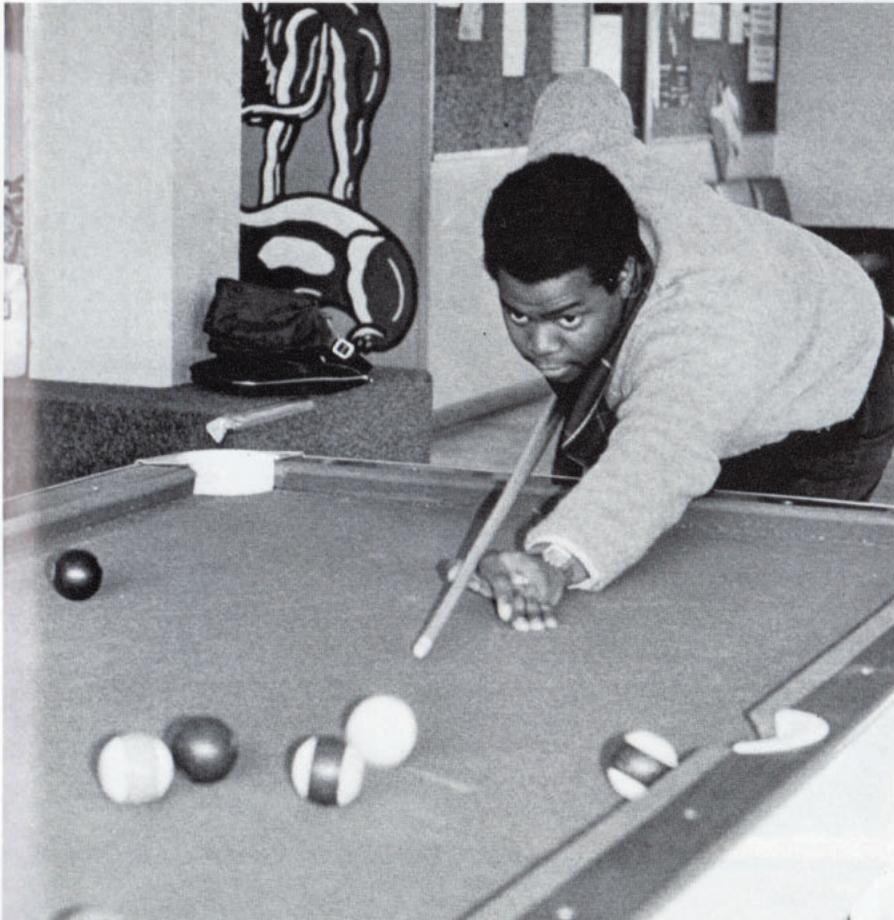

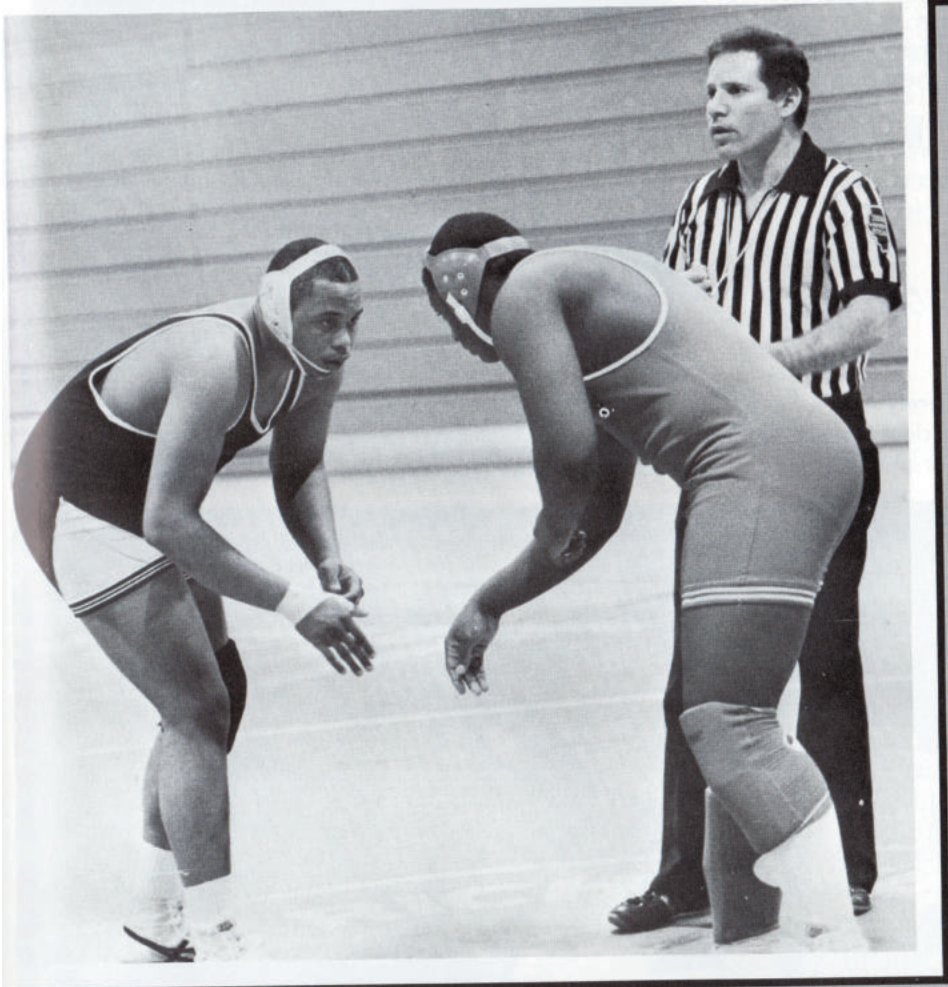

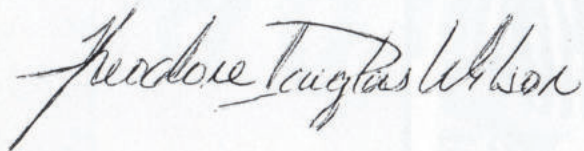

To the Students, Faculty and Friends of Mendel,

I hope that you have looked through and are pleased with the latest edition of the Monarch. The Mendel Monarch has been the work of countless hours and the effort of very few people.

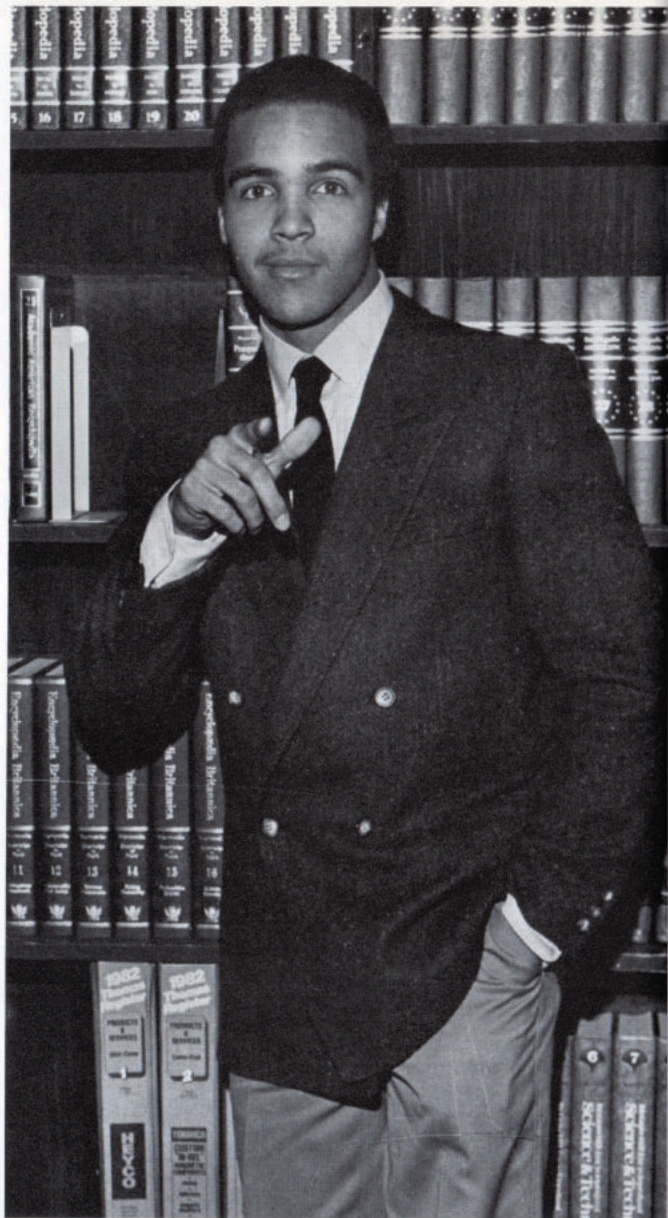

A special thanks should go to Rodney Chambers, Darrel Wilcoxon, Merrick Myers, Anthony Smith, Michael Thomas, and Moderator Mr. Gary Krasno for their help in working on the yearbook. Thanks should also go to Mr. Samuel Hall and Leander Studios for their work in photography. And last but not least, Ken Nemsick of Taylor Publishing Co. His help was greatly appreciated on this edition of the Monarch.

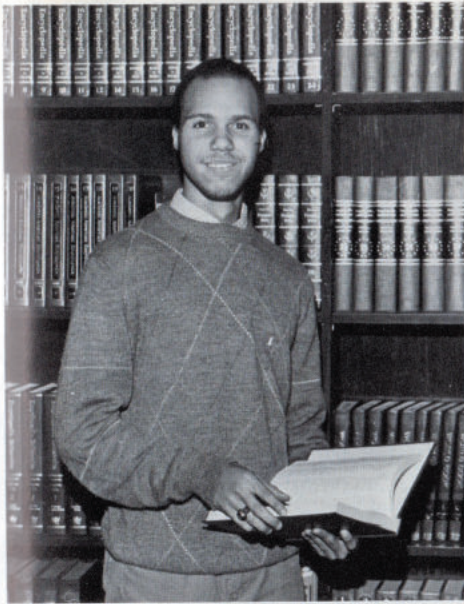

Our theme this year was "The Final Frontier" featuring the arrival of Halley's Comet. If one were to look up at this time, one could hopefully see the comet. If not, you are just too late. "The Final Frontier" is before us all. Before the Seniors that move to go on to college; before the Juniors that prepare to finish up next year; before the Sophomores that move into the spotlight of being a Junior; and before the Freshmen who move on to complete another Mendel educational year.

Farewell fellow students, faculty and friends, in all, farewell Mendel. As my ship and others in the "class of '86" fleet move on to explore the outer reaches, I hope the excellence of Mendel will continue.

Sincerely,
Theodore Douglas Wilson
Editor-in-Chief

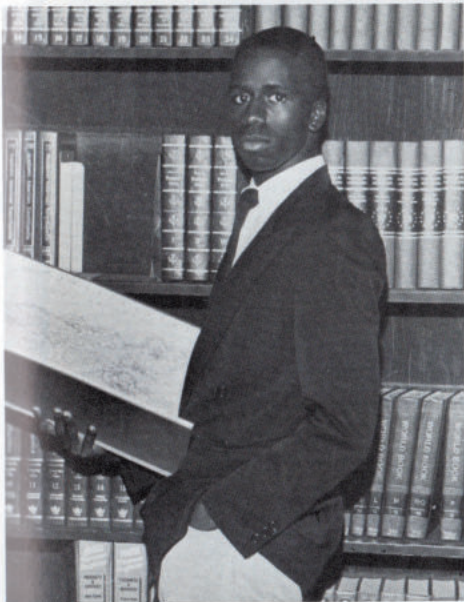

As I reflect upon the past, I think of my first days at Mendel. The long, tedious days of adjusting to a new environment. Graduation was a foreign word that was long in coming. I had to make the intense transition from grammar school to high school. I had to make new friends. I had to learn how to study. Most importantly, I had to accept the fact that I was in an all boys school.

As I reflect upon the present, my senior year — my last year, I think of graduation. The only thing I have on my mind is May 18, 1986, the day that will conclude four years of preparation. I enjoyed those years, but I am also glad that my struggle is over. It is time to reach new heights and to begin a life of my own. I thank Mendel for its guidance, encouragement, understanding, and discipline.

From my standpoint, it has been a very long year. Various things have happened in my life, in my home, and in my school. Different clubs and activities can really be a pain. At times things really looked bad for the staff. It didn't look like we would make the deadline, but thanks to dedication, determination, and hope, things always worked themselves out. No one would lose faith, no one would lose hope, and most important, no one gave up. Those were probably the most outstanding qualities about this group. (Besides our good looks). I really enjoyed working, talking, laughing, crying, and arguing with these guys. I would almost give anything to go through it again. I wish the best of luck to fellow, graduating seniors and to the Yearbook Staff of next year . . . May they have it easier than we did.

Rodney Pernell Chambers

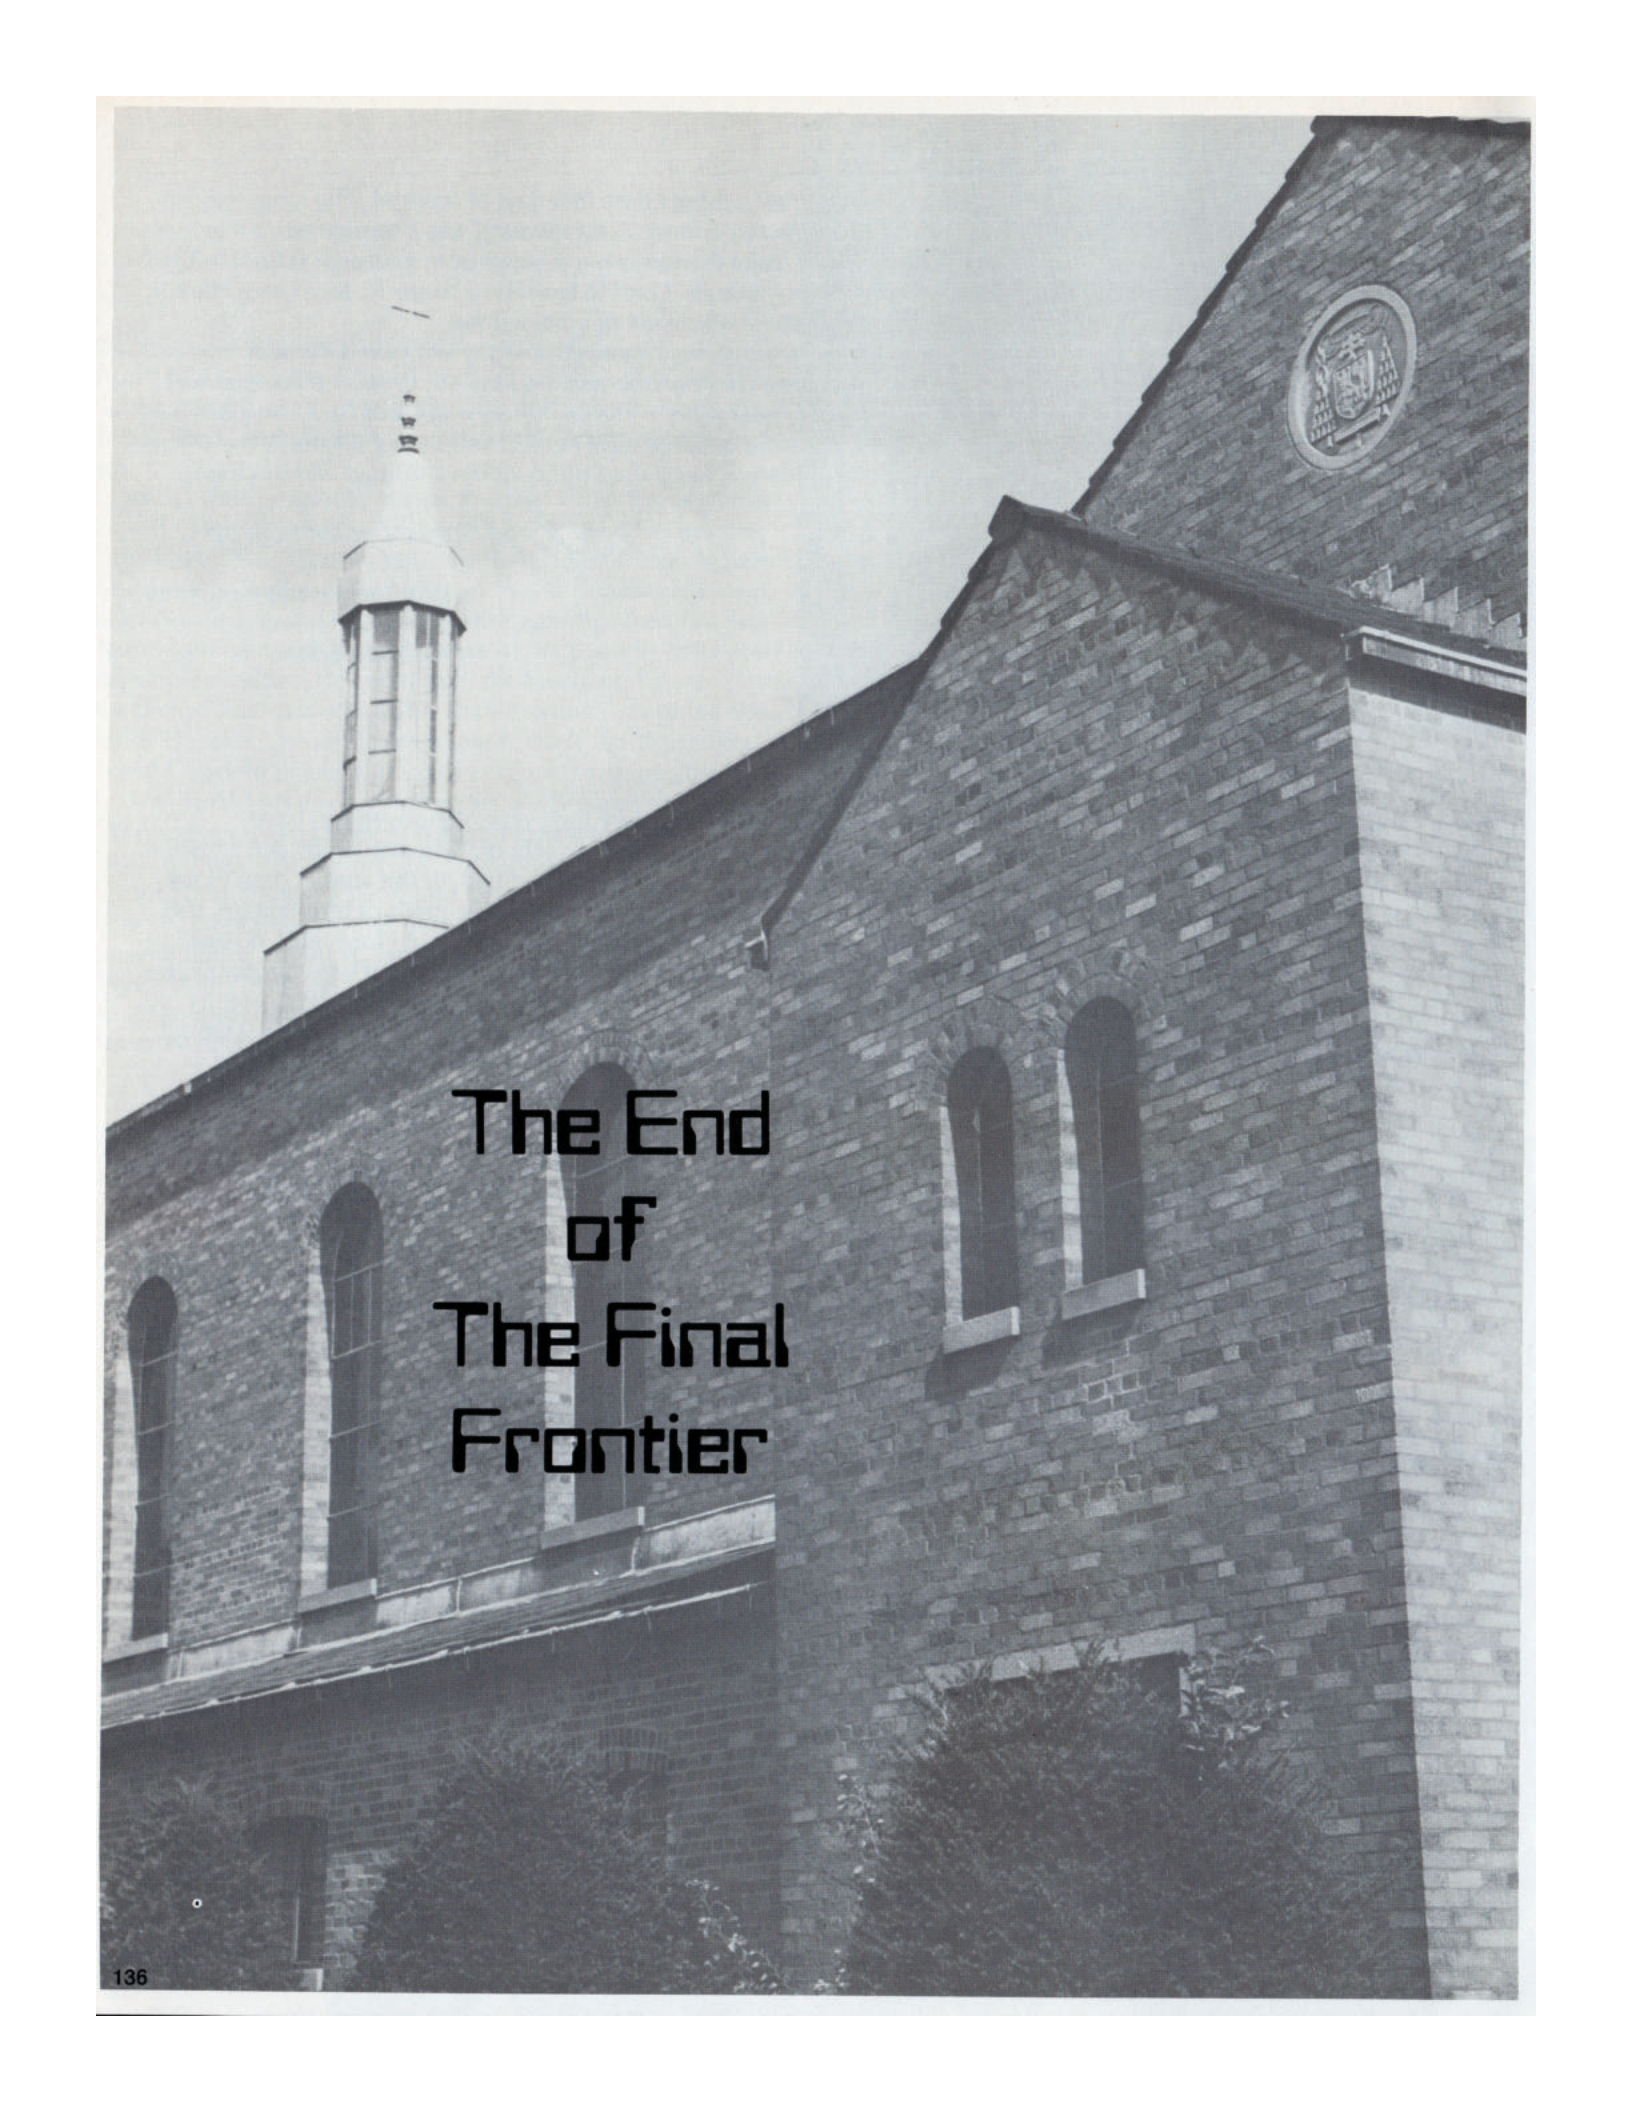

Sincerely,

My space craft is coming in for a landing now. The journey has been arduous, time consuming, and filled with more difficulties than I ever expected. As I finish up the work which has occupied my time for the past ten months I have begun to realize that no voyage is made alone. We all need someone to help us along when the work load becomes too heavy. Finally, I want to thank my co-workers and the Moderator Mr. Kranso for their encouragement they gave to all of us in helping to complete the yearbook.
